Employee Spotlight

Amy Lawrence is celebrating four years as a full time employee at TBH this month! Amy works in the Patient Financial Services Department. Amy is a Bellevue native and has a twin brother.

Amy and her husband, Josh, have been married for 16 years and have two children named Deacon and Carley. Amy loves spending time with her family, especially in the summer when they can have bonfires, go four-wheeling, and enjoy walks together. Her biggest accomplishment is raising her family with her husband.

Amy's most memorable trip was when her whole family went to Georgia and Myrtle Beach. As a matter of fact, if she could be anywhere right now it would be on the beach in Key West with the warm weather. Amy has a fear of heights and roller coasters and one of her worst habits is procrastination. She has made it her mission to become more organized here and at home.

If you see Amy, be sure to thank her for her hard work and dedication over the past four years at TBH!

TBH Celebrates 100th Anniversary

The Bellevue Hospital (TBH) began a year of celebration on Monday, March 6, the 100th anniversary of the hospital opening its doors for the first time.

In 1914, a group of Bellevue citizens looked to the future and envisioned a modern public hospital that would allow the people of the community to receive their medical care locally. On March 6, 1917, The Bellevue Hospital was dedicated and opened its doors to begin serving the healthcare needs of the area.

The original building had 24 beds and 9 bassinets for newborns. The hospital continued to grow and add space as the population increased and the hospital expanded health care services. The new hospital, in its current 1400 W. Main Street location, accepted its first patients on March 13, 2005.

The current 129,000 square foot facility has continued its advancements in providing new equipment, programs and services. Some 5,000 local and area residents turn to TBH each month for inpatient, outpatient and emergency medical procedures. The Bellevue Hospital now has over 400 employees. There are 34 different physicians on the current medical staff, while 50 others are members of the courtesy staff. Combined, these physicians represent 33 specialties.

Founded on the philosophy of providing contemporary medicine with hometown caring, The Bellevue Hospital has maintained its tradition and Mission of "Caring for patients as members of our family" as the hospital's hallmark.

The celebration on March 6, 2017 included a special meal, cake and ice cream, birthday cards and flowers to inpatients, and baby onesies given to all newborns in the hospital's Family Birthing Center. TBH employees, volunteers and medical staff members also received information on gifts of appreciation that will be given to all members of The Bellevue Hospital Family.

Congratulations to the members of the TBH Family for helping to provide 'Quality Care, Close to Home' for the last 100 years!
